These fun speaking surveys will get the students involved and TALKING! Some ESL students are too shy, but with these surveys, they will feel a lot more comfortable knowing that the question is on their paper and that they do not need to stumble upon words and think as they speak to their classmates. They will interview two other students in class and write simple yes/no notes in their columns.

- Cut up each card and hand them out so as to have each student with a different set of survey questions. There are four cards in total.
- Instruct the students to interview two other people around them (next to them and behind them).
